

Main title behind the bands head, this is used in other magazine such as NME and Kerrang!

Main story lines on front cover, when its stands out it makes people want to buy it more.

Plain white background makes the main title seem bigger and also helps it to be seen from behind the pictures.

Small out standing subtitles are important on a magazine to let people know what's els will be featured in the magazine.

Main Headlines, standing out against the picture of the band. This makes the writing stand out.

I have put a light orange colour for my font, this emphasised it against the background pictures.

Small images behind the main image shows that there is more than one main band in the magazine.

It is essential for the bar code to be on a magazine, for this reason i have included it to make it authentic and real.
